

"One of America's most influential DJs" - Urb Magazine

Liquid Todd is an award-winning DJ/programmer at SiriusXM known for his dance radio shows, dynamic live performances, original music and remixes and, more recently, his Twitch streams. He has created critically-acclaimed shows at SiriusXM and on some of the biggest FM radio stations in North America.

Liquid Todd hosts nights seven days a week on BPM (SiriusXM 51) and programs #betaBPM – a weekly new music show twice-nominated for Radio Show of the Year. He produces remixes and original songs - frequently collaborating with NYC duo Disco Killerz. The Morgan Page remix of Stellar went to #1 on BPM and - after being picked up by Armada - went on to become their biggest radio song of 2016. Easy Boy, Todd's collaboration with GATTÜSO, has topped 15 million streams.

Todd Wilkinson - his real name - was the first DJ to play what is now called EDM (electronic dance music) on commercial radio. First in Boston with his Spin Cycle show on WFNX – then in the nation's #1 market: New York City where his Solid State show aired live on 92.3 K-Rock every Saturday night for eight years – creating millions of new EDM fans and more than a few DJs and producers. Solid State also aired on WBCN Boston and WHFS Washington DC – then became Altered State on 103.5 WKTU New York. After joining Sirius Satellite Radio in 2004, Todd contributed to the creation of three new dance channels: Area (progressive), Chill (downtempo) and Boombox (breaks, mashups). Todd also programmed/hosted Boombox Radio, a long-running alt-remix show on Alt Nation (SiriusXM 36)
