ABOUT RVPHAELLO

Rvphaello is a secret European talent who fell in love with electronic music around 2010, where he dedicated most of his time working as a ghost producer. Passionate about rhythm since he was a child, his first instrument was drums and percussion. After a long journey through Paris, he combined fashion with his musical and audio visual projects, creating a totally unique and emphasizing style, where the mask fits with the performance and the act that are totally out of their character.

ABOUT PERFORMANCE

With strong and precise skills with pads, Rvphaello brings the innovation of the live act in the middle of his sets, creating an emotion beyond the expectations of the public, thus creating a unique live performance, where the strong visual goes hand in hand with the experience of a unique and innovative show.

"I have the responsibility to bring reality into the real world, all the dreams and visions inside my mind"
